East Coast Badminton Club (ECBC) is a premiere club in Rockville, Maryland dedicated to providing world-class badminton training, facilities, and resources. Founded in 2010, ECBC is certainly one of the newer clubs in the area, but have proven both ambitious and successful in integrating themselves into the badminton community through open tournaments, accommodating open gym times, and a staff of skilled and knowledgeable coaches running a large battery of training courses.

This Yonex sponsored club brings international talent to the east coast badminton scene. Head coach, Yeping Tang, has competed internationally and earned world, Pan-American, and American titles before retiring to concentrate on her coaching at ECBC. In the following years, ECBC's membership has grown in size and the club has responded to this demand by enlisting two more coaches: Vincent Nguy, a US National Team member, and Malik Basri, a former Singapore National Team member with 8 years of coaching experience.

For members looking to improve their game, ECBC offers a wide selection of classes catering to both skill level and age: adult group lessons have been embraced by members seeking exercise and community, while more competitive tournament players opt for "elite" group training and one-on-one private lessons with a coach. Lessons push players to new levels of play through practiced repetition, drills targeting weak areas, and instructor demonstration. Group lessons and private lessons are also available for those who are new to badminton and are looking to develop a strong foundation of basic strokes and strategies. For those not in training, or just passing through, open gym times allow for competitive play as well as some good old fun in a great badminton venue.

ECBC's facility is located less than ten minutes away from the heart of Rockville, Maryland and boasts a full badminton environment, complete with dispersed multi-point lighting, 32 foot ceilings, and 4 courts with green badminton court matting. Members can play comfortably in an air-conditioned atmosphere and have access to the multi-purpose training room. There are few other badminton clubs in the Maryland region with the same accommodations for their players.
